PERMANENT ORGANIZATION EFFECTED

Aaron C. Thallman, President; Rudolph C. Rath, Secretary; Alfred H.
Schweers, Treasurer; and Mrs. R. J.
Noonan, Vice-President, were the officers elected Tuesday night by those assembled at the meeting called to convene at Horger's funeral home to effect a permanent organization for the care of Hondo's cemeteries.

The crowd assembled was somewhat disappointing in numbers, due no doubt to the threatening weather, but those present manifested an earnestness of purpose that promises success to the undertaking.

The purpose is to revive the sometime defunct Ladies Cemetery Association, to include in its personnel men as well as ladies and to enlarge somewhat on the scope of work undertaken. Owing to a conflict in names between the former organization and the corporation holding title to the cemetery property, it is deemed advisable to select a new name for the re-organized body. The selection of this name was deferred until some future time.

The first objective of the organization is the securing of an adequate water supply at both cemeteries, and a committee of ten was named to solicit funds for financing the installation of water facilities. The following constitute the committee: Felix Batot, Homer Wilson, Charles J.
Monkhouse, J. A. Horger, T. C.
Barnes, W. L. Windrow, Geo. Carle, Dr. T. B. Knopp, Mrs. R. J. Noonan and Mrs. Ben Oefinger. This committee is intended to be representative of both public cemeteries, Ingleside and Oakwood. Messrs. John M.
Finger and Joe Meyer were asked to enlist the interest of the parish people in extending the water service to the Catholic section of Oakwood.
And a similar request was made of
H. H. Crow and Alfred H. Schweers in behalf of the Woodmen of the World section.

Another meeting of all interested parties is called to convene at the same place and hour next Tuesday night, to hear a progress report and consider other matters that may come up for attention.

TARPLEY ROAD PROJECT NEARS COMPLETION

Commissioner Alfred A. Bader and Project Supervisor Joe K. Wallace report the work on the Tarpley road nearing completion as originally planned, and other improvements projected. The original appropriation for this work was $32,500.00.
With this, among other things, it was planned to apply 14,500 cubic yards of gravel to forming a gravel base.
By careful management this was increased to 21,750 cubic yards, and ten miles out of the 14 3-4 miles of road in the project have been graveled.

At the same time there has been such a material saving that the W. P.
A. has approved the construction of a new concrete crossing at the "Wide Crossing", where a 261-foot bridge will be built. This structure will be raised some three feet higher than the one now in use. Authority to proceed with this structure was received Wednesday and work will begin at once. The concrete bridge across the slough in the Zuberbuehler ranch is finished and filling the approaches is now under way.

It is thought that with the improved road some form of direct mail service from Hondo to the Tarpley section may be secured.

Commissioner Bader reports that in co-operation with the W. P. A. his precinct has graveled 91 miles of road, constructed 2,660 lineal feet of concrete low-water bridges and slabs, opened up 12 miles of new road and widened 7 miles of the Yancey road from 60 to 100 feet.
Also with the help of the citizens of Hondo six miles of Hondo's streets have been paved.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY MEETS

Service met in their first program and social meeting in the new organization in the home of Mrs. Chas.
J. Monkhouse Wednesday afternoon,
September 18, 1940, with Miss Lora King as leader. The subject of the program was "Life's Heritage", and Mrs. D. H. Fly presented the message, "Investing Our Heritage", which was followed by topics on the subject given by Miss Bertha Newton and Miss Lenora Schmidt.

It was decided to begin the fall Mission Study, "Uprooted Americans", on Wednesday afternoon, September 25th, at the home of Mrs.
W. L. Windrow.

Mrs. Monkhouse, assisted by Mrs.
Amos Harillee as a co-hostess, served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and punch to about twenty members.

AN APPRECIATION

In transferring my tailoring and cleaning business over to Horace appreciation and grateful thanks for the generous patronage they have accorded me during the past twenty years. Your good will and favors will ever be remembered and appre-

same standard of workmanship and

HONDO OWLS DEFEAT CRYSTAL CITY JAVELINAS 40-0

From THE OWL.

The Hondo Owls rode to victory in their first game of the season Friday night on Barry Field by defeating the Crystal City Javelinas 40 to 0. The Owls outplayed the Javelinas the entire game. The Owl backfield gave an excellent showing of ball carrying, H. Finger, Embrey and Weynand doing the carrying. Mitchell did a fine job at backing up the line. Dawson showed that it does not take a big guard to stop plays through the center of the line.

As the game opened Hartung got off a good kick to the two yard line and was returned to the twenty by Crystal City. In three downs the Javelinas were unable to get a first down and then kicked out to the fifty yard line where Embrey returned the ball four yards to the forty-six. On the first play Finger went outside tackle and cut back down the field for the first touchdown of the game. Hartung kicked the extra point. Hartung then kicked off to the Crystal City five yard line and the ball carrier fell on the eight.

Crystal City tried a play to the center for no gain; on the next play the Javelinas fumbled and the ball was recovered by Hondo. On the next play Weynand carried the ball outside right tackle for a gain of three yards. On the next play there was a penalty of five yards for off side against Crystal City, which put the Owls on the two yard line. From the two Embrey took the ball inside tackle for the second touchdown.
Hartung tried for extra point but was no good. Hartung then kicked the ball over the goal line for a touchback and the ball was brought to the twenty yard line. After trying a tackle play, an end play, and a pass, Crystal City was unable to make a first down. The Javelinas kicked to Hondo's forty-six. On the first play Finger went outside tackle for no gain, then Embrey went around end for a gain of 4 yards; on the next play a pass was incomplete from Embrey to Hartung. Weynand punted out of bounds on the 10 yard line. Crystal City then took the ball on the 10 and after trying 3 off tackle plays they punted to the Hondo thirty-five. On the first play Weynand went outside tackle for a gain of nine yards. This ended the first quarter. Score: thirteen to nothing.

On the next play Embrey went outside tackle for a gain of seventeen yards, then Embrey went inside tackle for the third touchdown of the game. Hartung tried for the conversion and it was good. Hartung then kicked off to the Javelinas and was returned ten yards by Cristal. On the next play Danie downed the ball carrier eight yards behind the line of scrimmage. On the next two plays Crystal City made sixteen yards and a first down; on the next four plays the Javelinas were unable to make a first down and they kicked to the Hondo twenty. On the first play Weynand took the ball outside the right tackle for a gain of eight yards, then Finger went outside left tackle for a gain of three yards and a first down. Embrey took the ball through the center for a four yard gain. Embrey again carried the ball for a six yard gain and another first down. Then Embrey carried the ball for a seven yard gain outside the right tackle. On the next play Embrey was stopped on the line of scrimmage and was thrown for a one yard loss on the next play.
Weynand then kicked to the Crystal twenty yard line. In four plays the Javelinas were unable to make a first down and the ball went to the Owls on downs. A twenty-five yard run was made by Embrey on the next play which put the Owls on the one yard line; Embrey then went through the center of the line for a touchdown. This ended the half but time was allowed for conversion and Clinton Hartung made it good.

When the second half started Crystal City kicked off to Hondo. On the first play Weynand went outside tackle but there was a penalty and the play was called back; on the next play Embrey made seven yards around end; then Finger gained four yards outside left tackle. A pass was then incomplete from Embrey to Weynand. Weynand then kicked forty-five yards to the Javelinas' thirty-one yard line. In three plays the Javelinas were unable to make a first down and they kicked to the

Hondo Owls to Meet Cotulla Cowboys

Friday night, September 27, the Hondo Owls will meet the Cotulla
Cowboys in a non conference game on Barry field.

This game is scheduled to be one of the Owls hardest fought games of this season and the boys will be out there doing their best to win. Cotulla is said to have a strong team with a fast back field and a strong line. But any team can be defeated by the use of a few brains and by having the right spirit.

When the game starts the Owls will be in the best condition, having had three hard workouts this week.

The boys will be out there fighting to do their best so come out and back up the Owls and see a fine clean game of football.

Hondo forty yard line. On the first play Embrey went inside tackle and fumbled but the ball was recovered for a gain of twenty yards and a first down. On the next play Crystal City was off side which left the Owls with a first down and five yards to go for another first. A pass was incomplete from Embrey to Hartung.
Embrey then went through left tackle for a gain of four yards. On the next play Embrey passed to Weynand, but the pass was incomplete.
Weynand then punted to the Crystal City thirty-one yard line. The first play was through right tackle for a gain of eight yards. On the second down with two yards to go, Crystal City drove through left guard for a gain of 1 1-2 yards. With third down coming up and approximately eighteen inches to go Crystal City met a stone wall defense and gained only two inches. There was a general pile-up on the play. On the fourth down with only a foot to go, Crystal punted forty yards to the Hondo fourteen. On the first play Embrey took the ball outside right tackle, fumbled, but recovered and took the ball for a gain of twenty yards putting them on the thirty six yard marker. With first down and ten yards to go, Embrey took the pigskin through left tackle, for a gain of three yards, but Crystal City was offside and Capt. Richter put Hondo on their own forty-one yard stripe.

A pass was then incomplete from Embrey to Hartung. Embrey then went through center for a gain of seventeen yards and a first down.
On the next play Weynand went outside tackle for a 15 yard gain and another first down; then Embrey went inside tackle for a gain of nine yards, Weynand then went outside tackle for a six yard gain and a first down. On the next play Finger went outside left tackle for a two yard gain. Then Finger again went outside tackle for eight yards and a first down, then Embrey carried it over from the one yard line for a touchdown. Hartung made the extra point good. Then Hartung kicked to Cristal City. In three plays the Jave-linas made a first down, and on the next play they gained three yards which ended the third quarter.

On the next play the Javelinas were stopped on the line of scrimmage. The Owls recovered a fumble on the next play and had the ball on Crystal City's forty-eight yard line.
Finger then carried the ball for a two yard loss; on the next play he gained seven yards on an off tackle play. On the next play Finger gained a half a yard on another off tackle play. Then Finger kicked to the Javelinas ten yard line. On the first play Crystal City made a first down, a pass was then intercepted by Dawson and Hondo had the ball on Crystal's twenty-nine yard line.
Baker then went off tackle for a one yard gain. Finger then went outside left tackle for a five yard gain.
Crystal City was off side on the next play and this penalty gave the Owls a first down. Finger then went through the center for no gain. On the next play Hondo was off side and took a penalty of five yards. On the next play Embrey took the ball inside right tackle for a four yard gain, Embrey then carried the ball off tackle for a two yard gain. On the next play Embrey fumbled on a bad pass from the center, then Em-

MEDINA VALLEY DISTRICT SCOUT MEETING HELD HERE

The Medina Valley District Scout meeting was held in Hondo Wednesday, September 18th. Mr. O. A. Fly called the meeting to order and explained that on account of the Scout-masters of the Medina Valley District being teachers who were away during the summer there has been little Troop or District activities. Now that school is in progress the groups should get busy and plan activities for the boys and training for the new Scoutmasters, which is 80% or four new Scoutmasters out of five.
This being true, Mr. Barry, Training Chairman, suggested that Elements of Scout Leadership, Part I, be held over. The men then voted that these new Scoutmasters be given Elements, Part I, immediately to bring them up to date, then follow at once with Elements, Part II, for all. It was unanimously voted to set dates of Tuesday, October 1, Thursday, October 3, and Monday, October 7. They voted to meet at Hondo because it is more centrally located and everyone would have to travel about the same distance.

It was unanimously voted to hold the next Court of Honor at Yancey Thursday, November 14, and make it a District Rally, each Troop bringing their parents and a picnic lunch.
Supt. Barry then told of the opening of the new gymnasium at Hondo, November 11, with a county-wide celebration climaxed by a football game between Hondo and Del Rio and invited all Troops to come as guests of Hondo Schools and put on some Scout stunt which would sell Scouting to the general public. Mr.
Clark urged those who possibly could to attend the Commissioners' Training Course, September 16, 19 and 21; discussion on Cubbing by Mr.
G. A. Speedy, Assistant National Director of Cubbing, September 24 and Regional Institute at Houston September 28 and 29.

Men present were: Richard A.
Biediger, LaCoste; Rudolph Bippert, LaCoste; C. A. Oehler, LaCoste; M.
B. Lovelace, Yancey; E. W. Dechert, Yancey; T. A. Duderstadt, Yancey;
A. J. Hardt, Yancey; E. L. Rabb, Hondo; E. S. Bohmfalk, Yancey; J.
W. L. Zinsmeyer, D'Hanis; J. B. Neater, D'Hanis; O. A. Fly, Hondo; J.
G. Barry, Hondo; R. L. Kollman, Hondo; and C. A. Clark, Field Executive.

Medina County can boast of several active Scout Troops and it is the purpose of the Scoutmasters and the Scouts to awaken general interest in Scouting. A special plea is extended the parents, especially the fathers of young boys, to learn about this national boys organization, to urge their sons to become reliable Scouts and to give them, the Troop and the Scoutmaster both cooperation and moral support to continue the good work.

MR. JOHN CLEMENTS KILLED

The community was shocked by the tragic death of John Clements, a long-time citizen of this community,
which occurred near Hebbronville, Texas, about two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, September 25, 1940.

As told briefly to a reporter of this paper, Mr. Clements had been working with a dragline operated by the Bailey Brothers, James and Bradley, of this place. The force was moving some heavy machinery and the truck stalled. Another truck was attached to the stalled truck and with some of the force pushing they started the trucks and had gone some hundred yards when a bystander called the drivers and told them they had run over a man. The heavy truck had crushed his chest and life was extinct. No one can tell just how it happened as no one saw it, but the presumption is that when the truck started Mr. Clements either fell or was thrown beneath the wheels.

The family was notified, and Mr.
John Horger went to Hebbronville and brought the remains to Hondo Wednesday night. As we are going to press late Thursday, funeral services are being held at the Horger funeral home and interment made in the Woodmen plat at Oakwood cemetery. Rev. W. S. Highsmith, Pastor of the Methodist church, is conducting the services.

The unfortunate man leaves to mourn his tragic passing his grief-stricken companion, seven children, Mrs. Tom Cameron of Hondo, Mrs.
Glenn McWilliams of Dallas, Mrs.
Bill Nixon of Oilton, A. C. Clements of Hondo, Jim Clements of Freer, Blanche and Myrtle Clements of Hondo; three grandchildren, and two brothers, Jim and George Clements.

Embrey picked up the ball and ran through the Javelinas for another touchdown. Hartung missed the extra point.

Hartung then kicked off to the Javelinas and on the first play Crystal City completed a pass for no gain. In three plays they were unable to make a first down and had to punt. Embrey then carried the ball outside tackle for a twenty-four yard gain and a first down, Weynand then went off tackle for no gain.
Weynand again went off tackle for a two yard gain and the ball went to Crystal City on downs. The Jave-linas then completed a pass for a one yard gain. This ended the game.

Hondo Owls 40; Crystal City 0.

GHOST TOWNS

By Clayton Rand

The Scribe returned the other day to what was once a thriving sawmill village, and is now filling stations and dust.

The crumbling brick walls of the old bank building mark the site of an abandoned community, a monument to a prosperous past.

Move the population out of any city, and nothing left would have value. It's people that make a community and who convert worthless things into wealth.

And they achieve it by giving service. It is only in the service they render to each other that they build and expand. When they cease to perform some useful service the town soon dies and gives up its ghost.

BIPPERT-RICHIE

Miss Evelyn Riche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Riche of San Antonio, became the bride of Clarence H. Bippert, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bippert of LaCoste, in a ceremony September 5, in St. John's Lutheran Church in San Antonio with the Rev. A. L. Wolff officiating. The church was decorated with white blossoms, tapers and palms. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a white slipper satin gown with long sleeves and a flared skirt with a train. Her only jewelry was a locket given her by her mother. She carried a shower bouquet of amaryllis lilies, stehnanotis, lilies of the valley and puffs of tulle. Miss Lucille Riche was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Gerald Garteiser was matron of honor. They wore gowns of rose moire taffeta and hats of matching tulle with long streamers. The bridesmaids, Misses Jeanette Harvey Evans, Roxine Rothschild, and Mrs. Homer T. McClaugherty, wore blue noire gowns fashioned like those of the maid of honor and matron of honor, with blue tulle hats to match. They carried bouquets of pink amaryllis and blue delphinium with puffs of blue tulle. All wore gold creases. A reception following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents. When the couple left for Austin, the bride wore a frock of soldier blue crepe with navy blue accessories. They are at home in San Antonio at 438 Gulf Street.

AGAIN THE EARTH.

The plowman cuts a furrow west to east, From barnyard gate to the grey pasture wall; With knowledge pace he forms a square, released Are stones and slim roots from their stubborn caul; Through shining rows whose undulations gleam Like cords of tangled plush, he strides along. The steel point buried to the wooden beam, The hills resounding with his planting song.

I wondered as I watched the toiler there Absorbed, content in this age-old routine If there was any task upon this sphere With creed more hopeful, omen more serene; This turning of the soil, the seed, the birth, Plant growth, the harvest, and again —the earth.

—MIRIAM WHITNEY WHITE, in The Notebook.

New passenger cars bought in Texas in the first half of 1940 climbed 17 per cent above those of the like period of 1939. June registrations of new automobiles were 8.5 per cent above June, 1939, but 1 per cent under May, 1940. A total of 6,024 cars was reported sold in 16 thickly populated counties during June, 38,527 during the first six months of 1940. Sales of commercial cars slumped during June—9.2 per cent from May, 0.6 from June, 1939—but held 11 per cent above last year for January through June.

QUIHI NOTES

And there was the music of rain in the air. A few sections also had it on the ground. It's a far cry from having enough for immediate requirements, but we were reassured that the rainy season, usually beginning with September, might be ushered in and make the winter more of a festive season of contentment. More than other professions, the farmer is in closer and more direct dependence on the Giver of all good gifts for the operation of his business the year around. And he is in good hands, though in his opinion somewhat slow in action and the Lord's clock seemingly running behind schedule. Often the situation of emergency is taxing and testing the farmer's patience, but he still is in good hands. It should be a pleasure to nestle closer up to that bounteous God and call for His resources. There is no go-between, no intervention no solicitor to act in his behalf or against him. He should be dealing with God directly and often to get attention first hand and link up with heavenly headquarters. It should be a distinct pleasure and privilege. Historically considered, the tillers of the soil, the farmers of every age were the most religious set of people, walking and working daily in the sunshine and the life-giving atmosphere of God's grace. And things have come to a sorry pass, if they become entangled with an attitude of indifference and forgetfulness that estranges them from their great Landlord, ever ready and ever attentive for their daily petitions while tacking the soil, the fundamental source of all human income and progress. Our Hondo highway motto has gained an interstate wide reputation. Does it hold good? Are we in "God's country"?

Operations are often a matter of necessity. And after the pains of the ordeal are passed, the beneficial change creeps to the surface often quite fast. We are glad to report that in the case of Mrs. Anton Grell, Miss Corine Nietenhoefer and also of Mrs. George Heyen, the latter having ventured out to her home premises lately.

Remember the Community Social on the Quihi Church grounds on October 5. The Anvil-Herald carries the full "ad" and the hearty invitation for you.

Various visitors dropped in at the parsonage lately. Among them Mr. H. Kopplin from Seguin, Texas, and Mr. H. Knebel and family. Perhaps there was a reason for it. The pastor's family had a kind of small-scaled reunion. All the children from various sections of our U. S. made their appearance, to wit: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weeber, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Hugo Weeber and family, Dubuque, Iowa, Herbert from Los Angeles, Cal., Esther and Harold from San Antonio, and the Quihi resident, Miss Hertha. Those reunions are often few and far between, and it was over sixteen years now since they were able to be together again, and, of course, the first time on the quiet premises of our metropolis of Quihi. A large budget of reveries, past experiences, impressions and developments was there to unroll and to exchange in happy hours. We are extremely thankful for the rare occasion.

The next regular session of the Ladies' Aid will be on October 3, and the various and important topics for discussion should prompt all members to attend. Please keep the date in mind.

A preliminary notice for our Mission festival on October 13. Rev. F. A. Bracher of Fredericksburg will be out guest preacher for a German sermon in the forenoon and an English service at night. Please arrange to join us. The day has a blessing for you.

Announcements for September 29: Sunday school and Bible class at 9; German service at 10 A. M. No evening service. "Lord speak, thy servant heareth." Come and do so.

BIG SHOW HEADS TOWARD US

Ringling Imports Europe's Best For New 1940 Performances

The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, with the world's largest big top in solid blue, improved air conditioning, a new opening spectacle, "The Return of Marco Polo," a star-studded cast and an all-new performance, star-studded by a tremendous array of new European features, will exhibit in San Antonio, Friday, Oct. 4th.

Foremost among the impressive importations is the great Alfred Court, Europe's most famous trainer, with his three famed mixed groups of performing wild animals—Polar bears, Himalayan bears, leopard tigers, lions, black and spotted leopards, Siberian snow leopards, black and spotted panthers, cougars, pumas, jaguars and Great Dane dogs, all working together in breath-taking violation of a jungle law. Never before has a trainer accomplished this startling mixing of so many species of natural enemies. This is Court's first American appearance.

The leading horsemen of Europe—Hans Strassburger, Vas Creculescu and Los Aserveras—with their renowned troupes of dressage and liberty steeds bring the Big Show's horse displays to a new high. The war and big money made their importation possible, as it did scores of other troupes and stars who hitherto would not budge off the Continent.

The Greatest Show on Earth steaming toward this territory on four long trains, with 1,600 people, 50 elephants, 1,009 menagerie animals and hundreds of horses, will open its performances at 2:15 and 8:15 daily, with doors open at 1 and 7 P. M., for public inspection of the huge menagerie, including Gargantua the Great, and the long lines of performing steeds in the new horse fair tent adjoining it.

There were three men in a boat with four cigarettes but no matches. They threw out one cigarette and made the boat a cigarette lighter.

Dry Hole or Gusher . . .

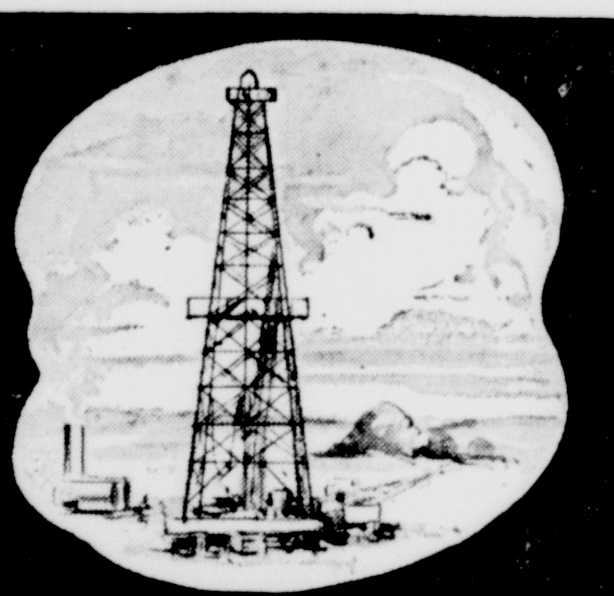

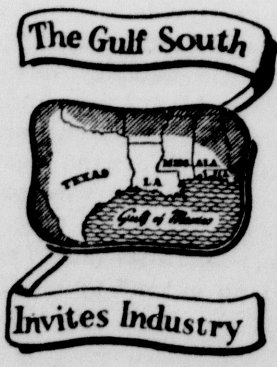

. . . He Always Profits

- In the business of drilling for Natural Gas there is a maxim which runs, "You never know what's down there until the hole is drilled." Maybe it's Gas, maybe not. In spite of this chance, thousands of dollars must be spent before drilling is ever begun.
- The exploration costs, lease rentals, and royalty payments of these Companies and associated Company over the past ten years have amounted to millions of dollars. Most of this money is paid in leases and royalties to people living in the Gulf South. Some of these people may be acquaintances of yours . . . perhaps your neighbors and friends . . . perhaps yourself.
- This money finds its way into the channels of business in this area . . . it helps people to pay taxes, buy food and clothing, and support schools and churches. It adds to the welfare and prosperity of the area in which you live.
- Dry hole or gusher . . . directly or indirectly, your town and your region are benefited.

The average Texas 4-H Club girl is about 12 years of age. At least, more girls are 12 than any other age, according to a survey of enrollment cards made recently by Onah Jacks, state girls' club agent, and Helen H. Swift, sociologist for the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College, who deals with rural women's organizations. The study shows that 6,648 of the 35,977 girls are 12 years of age. The next largest number—6,008—is comprised of girls 11 years of age. In comparison 142 girls are under 10 years of age, and 65 are 20 years of age. A similar study was made to determine how long most of the girls have been engaged in 4-H Club work. Approximately 45 percent of all 4-H Club girls are enrolled this year for the first time; 30 percent, or 10,803, are in their second year of club work; and 15 percent are enrolled for the third year. While the turnover in the higher age brackets is large, the number of girls remaining in 4-H Clubs over a period of years has steadily increased until this year there are more fourth year girls enrolled than at any time in the history of club work. Seventy-six girls, most of them about 17 years of age, reported that they had been active club members for more than six years. At present there are 1,991 girls' 4-H Clubs in Texas. This is slightly less than the 2,100 home demonstration clubs in the state. Aggregate enrollment of women club members is 37,289.

Professor Charles N. Shepardson, head of the Dairy Department of Texas A. & M. College, College Station, Texas, was elected a director of The American Jersey Cattle Club, national organization of Jersey breeders, at the seventy-second annual meeting of the organization held June 5, 1940, in Louisville, Ky. Professor Shepardson is widely known for his work in promoting better dairying in Texas and has been head of the Dairy Department of Texas A. & M. College since September, 1928. He is actively interested in the work of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club and has served as secretary of the Southern Division of The American Dairy Science Association. The American Jersey Cattle Club, to which Professor Shepardson has been elected a director, was founded in 1868 to perpetuate in America the purebred identity of the dairy cattle breed which originated centuries ago on the Island of Jersey in the English Channel. A nationwide program of registration of the progeny of purebred Jerseys, classification, cattle shows, educational extension projects, sales and production testing is sponsored by The Club.

The formal dedication of the Athletic Park which has recently undergone rapid changes was held on Thursday evening at 8 p. m. at the park. At this time the Sabinal High School Band rendered several numbers, the members of the football team of Sabinal High School were introduced, the guest team of the Hondo High School was introduced. Mayor K. T. Biggs made the formal dedication of the park. The installation of lighting equipment and building of a large and comfortable grandstand, the resodding of the field and the new fence are all a part of this co-operative endeavor of the public schools, the chamber of commerce and the fire department. Coach Parker presented the Sabinal High School football team in a few plays as did likewise Coach Bridges of the Hondo team. Sabinal is justly proud of this fine addition to the athletic possibilities and feels that this is certainly another very clear example of what can be accomplished when several groups work together. TEXAS AGGIES TO PLAY TULSA AT SAN ANTONIO OCT 5.

The Texas Aggie-University of Tulsa Game to be played in the new Alamo Stadium in San Antonio at 2:30 P. M. Saturday, October 5, promises to be the most colorful sports event ever held in the sports-loving Alamo City.

"Despite a heavy advance sale of tickets, there are plenty of excellent seats available in the big new stadium for the A. & M.-Tulsa game," according to C. C. Krueger, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce football committee, sponsors of the event.

"Football fans can get good seats by writing the football committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce or by visiting the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio, but they are urged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible," Krueger said.

Aggie supporters from far and wide are expected to crowd into San Antonio on Saturday, October 5, which has been pronounced "A. & M. Day" in that city.

The famous Aggie band will accompany the team together with a train load of Aggie students, professors and supporters. The A. & M. Club of San Antonio has arranged a big get-together of all A. & M. Club members of South Texas, with headquarters at the Gunter Hotel.

Word from the University of Tulsa, Krueger says, that the Golden Hurricanes are champing at the bit to get a chance to topple the Texas Aggies, number one team of the nation in 1939. One of the finest teams to play in this section this year, the rough, tough Tulsa team boasts one of the best squads in the school's history, with fine football material, three deep in every position.

Carrying over the team of TNT that blasted open the road to a national championship last year, the A. & M. team is expected to follow the same "glory road" this season by a big proportion of the sports writers and certainly by every A. & M. supporter.

Especially are all eyes on big John Kimbrough, the A. & M. fullback who made practically every All-American team in 1939. During the two years "Jarrin Jawn" has been on the Aggie varsity, no team has been able to throttle this bone-crushing, plunging fullback.

Tickets for seats between the goal lines on both sides of the stadium are $2.20, and beyond the goal lines $1.65.

WHY AMERICA HAS A FARM PROBLEM.

THE FARMER'S SHARE OF THE CONSUMER'S DOLLAR IS LESS THAN IN THE PRE-WAR PERIOD

Another reason why America has a farm problem is that farmers' products bring them less than their usual share of the national income. In 1910, when farmers were on a parity basis, they were getting about 18 per cent of the national income.

The smallest share farmers have received since 1910 was in 1932 when their share was about 6 per cent of the nation's total. In 1939 farmers were still getting slightly less than 10 per cent of the national income. . . even though they make up 24 per cent of the nation's population.

Measures to increase the farm income include means for stabilizing supplies and prices of farm products, marketing quotas, crop loans, and crop insurance.

Ten Texas 4-H Club boys won places in the national 4-H farm and home accounting contests and an additional 20 qualified for state awards. The national winners, as announced by L. L. Johnson, state boys' club agent of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, are: Glenn M. Witten, Plainview; Henry Kveton, Abertown; Emil Olson, Canyon; Johnson Walker, Mt. Enterprise; Dewey P. Compton, New Salem; R. G. Nutt, Jr., Brownfield; Ralph Coffey, Anson; Herbert Ross, Willis; Sam A. Young, Farwell; Clarence Willingham, Troup. The winners of state awards are: J. E. Parsley, Willis; Cecil Pinkerton, Hale Center; Gilbert Watkins, Farwell; Erwin Meyer, Canyon; Wilbur Spraggins, Plainview; Charles Koenig, Jr., Conroe; Gibson Ash, Garrison; Willie Ash, Garrison; Billie Sears, Garrison; Dale Farris, Garrison. Gary Ash, Timpson; Dudley Edney, Kilgore; Bill Medford, Reklaw; Foy Lee, Kilgore; Bill Jolley, Henderson; A. C. Duncan, Henderson; Curtis Duncan, Henderson; Wayne Harris, Laneville; R. L. Dickerson, Jr., Laneville; and William Costelow, New Salem.

Though still small—only 18 cars—turkey shipments from Texas in May doubled those of May, 1939, and contributed to an 18.9 per cent gain in the movement of poultry from Texas to other States, University of Texas statisticians report. The 70 cars of chickens shipped showed a 7.7 per cent gain over May of last year. The 18 cars of turkeys shipped were twice those of May, 1939. Shipments of turkeys and chickens combined totaled 88 cars, as compared with 74 last year. Egg shipments gained 37.1 per cent to total 122 cars. Six cars of eggs were received from other states during May—three cars from Kansas, two from Missouri, and one from Tennessee—compared with sixteen carloads received from Kansas in May of last year.

—AAT—

Livestock shipments from Texas ranches to Fort Worth stockyards and to other states during May showed a 3.1 per cent decline from that month of 1939, with calves and sheep showing the only gains—7.7 and 28.3 per cent respectively. Cattle shipments dropped 13.6 per cent to only 4,630 cars and hogs decreased 8.6 per cent to 824 cars. Shipments of all classes of livestock totaled 8,652 cars. For the first five months of the year, shipments totaled 34,197 cars as compared with 43,101 cars during the same period last year.

—AAT—

Farm land of Texas is now being called upon to support 42 per cent more farm families than it did in 1900, reports the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station. In the 40-year period, the acreage per farm has decreased 25 per cent. Indications are that the current census will reveal a slight decrease in the number of farm families in the State, but the long time trend is toward smaller farms and more families.

MRS. HENRY BATOT, SR., DEAD

After an illness of many months duration, death came to Mrs. Henry Batot Sr., to relieve her of her suffering at 6:15 o'clock, Friday evening, September 20, 1940, at her home near Hondo. Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the St. John's Catholic church, her pastor, Rev. C. Garcia, conducting the last sad rites. Burial was made in the Catholic section of Oakwood cemetery. There was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends, many from other towns and distant points, and there was a profusion of beautiful flowers. The pallbearers were: Herbert Huegele, Harry C. Meyer, Hahn Winn, Oscar Batot, Joe W. Meyer and Raymond Batot.

Mrs. Batot (nee Agnes Huegele) was born at Bader Settlement, Medina County, on January 19, 1871. She had, therefore, attained the age of 69 years, 8 months and 1 day at the time of her demise. She grew into young womanhood in Medina County, and on December 30, 1895, was married to Mr. Henry Batot. They had resided for many years on the farm near Hondo.

Six children were born of their union, and five of these, together with the bereaved husband, survive to mourn their irreparable loss. One daughter, Agnes, preceded her mother in death by many years, having passed away in 1907. The surviving children are: Henrietta Batot; Meta, now Mrs. Aug. E. Weynand, and Hugo, all of Hondo; Alice, now Mrs. John H. Fischer and Henry Jr., both of San Antonio. There are seven grandchildren. She is also survived by her aged mother, Mrs. Regina Huegele of Hondo; three brothers, Benno of Hondo, Otto of Rio Medina and Pete of Devine; and two sisters, Mrs. Alex L. Haby and Mrs. Mina Meyer, both of Hondo.

The bereaved husband and children have lost a beloved companion and mother, the brothers and sisters a loved sister and her aged mother a devoted daughter. They have the heartfelt sympathy of all who know them.

CONSTRUCTION OF REA LINES STARTS

On Monday of this week a small crew of men started to work digging pole holes on the B Project lines. They began on the tap which takes off at R. L. Mumme's home and extends past the Kollman stock pens down to Mr. B. L. Robinson's and his neighbors.

Wiring contractors have been very busy the past week and have showed splendid results, according to the REA house-wiring Inspector, Mr. R. B. Hendricks, who was in Hondo on Monday and Tuesday to inspect such houses as had been completed. He expects to be back in Hondo in about two weeks to inspect additional members' houses, and the Cooperative hopes that there will be about twice as many as there were this week.

Mr. P. E. Workman of Dallas visited the REA office in Hondo on Thursday afternoon to see that his superintendents had things going smoothly. Mr. W. W. Cardwell, the superintendent who is to be stationed in Hondo, has rented the old Colonial Theatre building as his office and warehouse; this same location was used by the contractor when the A Project lines were built a year ago. Mr. D. E. Pogue, who has been sent to Devine to oversee construction on that portion of the Project, has rented a warehouse in the town of Devine, and will begin work the first part of the coming week. His plans are to begin in the Chico Lake District and work back to the town of Biry.

The staking crew employed by the J. W. Beretta Engineers, Inc., has at least 90 miles of line completed and expects to wind up the entire B Project within two more weeks. The right-of-way clearing crew likewise expects to finish its work within two weeks' time. These boys have all worked hard to do their share in getting the new lines completed in as short a time as possible.

Approximately 20% of the contractor's hardware and material has arrived in Hondo, some of which was brought down with trucks and crew members when they arrived last week. About 1-3 of the transformers to be used on this job have already arrived. It won't be long now until about 200 more farms in Medina County will have electricity.

J. H. ROTHE LOOKS GOOD TO AGGIE COACH

College Station, Texas, Sept. 22.—(A&M C)—Registration for the 1940-41 school year Thursday put an end to the two-day practice sessions for the Texas Aggies but it found them nearing top form in preparation for the tough football season ahead of them.

Coach Homer Norton put the breaks on for the starters earlier in the week and devoted most of his energies to the rest of the squad in bringing them to the near perfection of the first team.

Encouraging was the work of Joe Rothe, Hondo, back, who has been on the squad for two years but was withheld from action in one. He has developed rapidly and is booked for some service in 1940. He is fast and shifty, can block and is one of the Aggies who is not afraid to tackle "Jarrin' Jaw" Kimbrough head on. That in itself is a claim to fame.

The following is a thumbnail sketch: ROTHE, JOE (Grandpa), back Wt., 180; Ht., 5.10; Age, 21; Home, Hondo, Texas; Class, Junior. Joe was one of the boys held out of competition in 1938 for further development. He should see service this season although he has such boys as Thomason, Zapalac and Webster ahead of him.

As a freshman he earned numerals in football and baseball and was a squadman in both sports the past two seasons. At Hondo High Rothe won two football letters, four in baseball and one in track. He captained his football team, baseball and track teams and won all-district honors in the three sports and all-regional in baseball.

J. H. is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rothe of Hondo.

QUAIL CONSERVATION IN MEDINA COUNTY

An important meeting of county-wide interest was held at the courthouse in Hondo at 8 o'clock Thursday night, September 19, when members of the Medina County Wild Life Association, farmers and ranchmen and sportsmen gathered together to form a working organization for restoration and conservation of wild game in this county and to have the program clarified for them by Mr. C. M. Merritt, County Agent in charge of the game conservation program in the county, Mr. R. E. Callendar of the A. and M. Extension Service, and Mr. Thompson of the Education Department of the State Fish, Oyster and Game Commission. Mr. F. D. Garrison presided over the meeting.

An organization was formed, to be known as the Medina County Game Management Association, and the following officers were elected: President—E. J. Leinweber. Vice-President—F. D. Garrison. Secretary and Treasurer—Ernest Britsch.

The board of directors will be comprised of the three above officers and the following community chairman: Louis Biry of Biry, Guido Richter for the Richter community, and P. C. Jagge, Upper Hondo.

Of interest to those present were the motion pictures shown by Mr. Thompson, of the game commission, of wild life and scenes on a ranch before and after stocking for conservation purposes.

Mr. Callendar, of the Extension Service, gave a timely discussion of quail conservation. In this connection, Mr. Merritt announced that Mr. Walker of the game commission at Austin had inspected the Hugo and Henry Batot farm and declaring it ideal for the purpose, 1400 acres have been established as a quail demonstration farm. This location was selected because the neighboring farms have been signed to protect the quail when they spread out from the demonstration farm. According to Mr. Merritt, 280,000 acres in the County have been signed to protect quail, which also means that no quail hunting will be allowed on them.

The Batot farms have been found to have enough feed for the game on it this year, but if the need arises four or five feed plots will be established for the quail. In places where there is no protection for the quail, brush rack protectors will be built. It has not been determined as yet whether it will be necessary to add seed stock to the game already on the Batot place.

With a strict adherence to the requirements for the restoration and conservation of quail in Medina County, farmers and ranchmen will find an investment which will pay as big, or bigger, dividends as a corn crop or leasing for deer and turkey hunting, for which Medina County is already famous and has found very profitable.

Texas farmers and ranchers are advised by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, to exercise every precaution in the prevention of costly pasture fires. The danger of such fires is high in the late summer and early fall, he says, especially in areas scorched by prolonged drought such as the panhandle region in West Texas. Land owners in South Texas also were advised to take steps to protect grazing areas. Land scorched by fire may take two years for reseedling, necessitating heavy expense on the part of livestock men who may be forced to lease other pastures or purchase feed. Hall advises the adoption of practices of old-time cowboys and Rangers in breaking off the heads of matches after they have been ignited. Small land owners have plowed furrows around pastures to guard against the spread of fire.

NOTICE TO COTTON FARMERS

Medina County cotton farmers who produce middling cotton of 15/16 staple length, may place their 1940 crop under Government loan at 9.63 cents a pound, V. P. King, chairman of the Medina County AAA Committee, announces this week.

Loan rates for all eligible grades and staples have been established by the Commodity Credit Corporation.
They are on a net-weight basis, which makes them average 40 points over commercial quotations. Premiums and discounts vary with each grade and staple length.

For example, the rate on middling 7/8-inch cotton is one-fourth of a cent less than for 15/16-inch middling, on which the loan rate is based, while one-inch cotton of the same grade will bring one-fourth of a cent more. Middling 1-1/8 inch cotton is one and a half cents above the basic rate.

In the same manner, strict middling cotton in the medium staple lengths will bring one-fourth to one-third of a cent more than middling cotton, while strict low middling of the same staple is discounted about two-thirds of a cent per pound.

All cotton submitted for the loan must be classed by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose decision will be final. Cotton produced in this county will be sent to the office of the Agricultural Marketing Service in Austin, Texas, for classing.

To obtain a loan, a farmer delivers his cotton to a warehouse which has been approved for handling loan cotton. The warehouseman sends samples to the classing office, and, upon receipt of their report, inserts in the loan forms the grades and staples of the cotton. The farmer then takes his loan forms and his warehouse receipts to a bank or other lending agency and receives his cash advance or cotton loan.

"While the new requirements for classing of loan cotton will necessarily cause some delay in the making of the loan, the benefits to be derived from the system will more than offset the inconvenience of the delay.
Growers will receive a uniform classification of their cotton, done by Government employees who are expert in classing cotton. The farmer will find his cotton class record a valuable aid, either in the sale of his cotton or in the sale of his equity in the cotton," the official said.

FLASH! Common horse sense is beginning to make itself felt against emotional hysteria in some Congressional quarters!

That's news. It means that if the trend away from emotionalism and toward logic continues, the nation may yet be able to arm itself for satisfactory defense.

Legislative debate over conscription of men led to pure hysteria in which some solons talked unthinkingly of conscripting wealth and industry. Now, they are beginning to realize that conscription of industry and wealth would mean conscription of the whole nation.

The sounder thinkers are now convinced that only the unwilling industries and dollars should be confiscated. They realize that if "wealth" is conscripted it means forcing everybody to buy government bonds even if they have to borrow the money to do it. And, they say, they can get the unwilling dollars through taxation.

—WSS—
Thus charges that industry is "sabotaging" national defense are boomeranging against the accusers. The President, the National Defense Advisory Commission, the Secretary of War, Secretary of Navy, and so on down the line, insist that industry is doing its part. That should satisfy the most violent critics.

As a matter of fact, an increasing number of legislators is becoming convinced that the hurrying of such charges against industry in itself amounts to sabotage. Because it simply creates doubt and uncertainty in industry at a time when it should be allowed to produce national defense without having to defend its unquestioned patriotism.

In this connection, some legislators have been brought suddenly up against the realization that they are now passing their tenth tax bill in the last nine years. As one of them put it, "we've been following a let's-tax-this-tax-that theory until we don't know what we are taxing."

He points out that out of these ten tax bills, eight have been passed as late as June and only two earlier in the year. That means that industries which would like in December to plan their activities and program for the next full year can't do so because they won't find out until June or later what taxes they will have to pay for the year.

—WSS—
Incidentally, newspapermen who follow tax legislation are usually pretty sound judges of the wisdom of tax bills. In a recent press gallery discussion, a group of them suggested an amendment to the so-called "excess profits" bill. It was this: Strike out everything and insert: "Excess profits is stuff that if the government says you got any, whether you understand it or not, it will tax 'em—and heavy!"

WHAT I HEAR AND SEE

By Ernest Thorpe

HISTORICAL SALISBURY, COUNTY SEAT OF ROWAN COUNTY, N. C.

Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 11.—Sometime or other the readers of the A. H. may drive through this part of the country as many of you have already done and this little story may aid you in your search for historical events and little hints which may lead up to a good human interest story. Note farther on, a character here known as "Lord Salisbury".

When we arrive back in Medina County, I will write a very interesting story, not only of Medina County, but of the counties adjoining. We will be with you again about the middle of December; please leave all data, requests, etc., with Mr. Fletcher Davis, at the Hondo Anvil Herald office.

Salisbury has a population of 20,000, with the mountains to the west and the ocean to the east, Salisbury sets well inland closely surrounded by the greatest tobacco raising country in the world, and at one time was one of the leading tobacco markets of the South, however, now there is no tobacco sold here at all.

Sharing with Salisbury in the great railroad industry is Spencer her neighbor of over 3,000 population with city limit almost adjoining. The Southern Railroad Yards and Shops are located in Spencer employing over 2,000 men. This payroll twice a month, on the 15th and 30th, together with the largest finishing mill in the United States, where all kinds of cloth material is stretched, bleached, shrunk and shipped to all parts of the world. Also many textile and hosiery mills help to swell the weekly and monthly payroll.

Closely adjoining Salisbury are many other cotton and hosiery mills. Kannapolis, just fifteen miles to the south, is not only the largest unincorporated town in the world and owned by only one man, Mr. Charles Cannon, but it has the largest towel manufacturing plant in the world. No foolin', that there town really makes towels and you have some of them right in your home right now. One factory alone employs over 12,000 people, 4,000 men and over 8,000 women. From that factory alone is shipped a train load of towels daily and there are at the very least, 30 cars to a train, so you can just imagine how folks like to use towels.

Four miles from here, gold was discovered at the location now known as Gold Hill, and at one time there was great activity there, even yet gold properties are being worked. One of the great promoters of the mine committed suicide there by fastening a belt around his waist weighted with dynamite cartridges and then touched them off. It blew him plum to —

Also only a few miles from here, is Statesville, the leading herb market of the United States and also famous for its granite quarries. Then there is Charlotte, 40 miles South of here, where the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was signed May 30, 1775; also there is located the Mint Museum of Art. Badin, 30 miles to the south and east, is the largest Boxite, or aluminum, factory in the world and at the present time working in shifts continuously.

Lord Salisbury

Now, folks, we come to the world's most consistent colorful character.

count it was 105 pages) but the defense job is bigger. In a recent address, H. W. Prentiss, Jr., President of the National Association of Manufacturers, emphasized this. He reminded that building a two-ocean navy is a tremendous job because it means increasing the size of the navy 100 per cent. But the Army is to be increased 1,000 per cent.

In addition, he said, the original 100 per cent has to be modified to meet modern warfare requirements. He said, too, that another example of the size of the job is the fact that in the construction of a single Martin bomber, 400 to 600 sub-contractors are involved.

—WSS—

HE FEARED THE OUTCOME

The late Senator Borah of Idaho was a truly great American—some times wrong, which is the common lot of humankind, but able to comment upon significant facts with intelligence and the force of real logic in one of his last addresses to the senate, in the early days of this year, Senator Borah offered an analysis of legislation to conscript industry that has developed ever more pertinence today than when it was first spoken.

Borah's remarks are themselves the most powerful kind of an editorial to confound those who would give government complete control over all the processes of production. We think you'll agree when you've read his words:

"If we can do what is provided in this bill because of an emergency... then we could also provide, in case of an emergency, for the suspension of the Bill of Rights. We could prohibit free speech, free press and the right of trial by jury..."

"Mr. President, democracy is having a pretty tough fight with arbitrary power and with arbitrary governments... Such legislation as now proposed and the seizure of every opportunity to discredit democracy and democratic processes, hastening at all times to advertise the efficiency and the necessity of arbitrary powers, are telling most against democratic principles and democratic processes... The glory of the Bill of Rights is that it is a restraint upon government as well as upon individuals."

Thus the eloquent "final words" of a great legislator serve to remind us that political assumption of power does not stop halfway—and that the next step after the drafting of property is the drafting of free thought and everything else that democracy values most highly!

Colorful with all the glamour and array that has ever been portrayed with bright and alluring pigments would best describe Lord Salisbury's dress and wardrobe. He is the world's most colorful dresser and he is without competition.

Lord Salisbury does not only dress up and strut his stuff on state days and bonfire nights; he is dressed up every day. But, on special occasions you can bet that he will be the most doped-up man there, even the rainbow couldn't outdo him for color variety.

Although Lord Salisbury at times wears a high silk hat and at other times a beaver hat with full dress suit, tuxedos or conventional clothes, he is never otherwise hi-hat, hard to meet or talk to, he is very democratic and happy and that's the way he wants everybody else to feel in fact, that's why he always remains a dressed-up clown.

His Lordship's wardrobe consists of 23 pairs of shoes, all different colors, some are ever lacquered a bright red, blue, green or any color that would be strikingly unusual. He has 75 neckties and each of them are 55 inches long, each day he wears a different one of a dazzling color, a four-in-hand that dangles between his legs down below his knees. He has 9 suits of clothes, so loud that you can hear 'em chucklin' in the closet, 3 top hats, a Prince Albert suit, a dress suit and a tuxedo. He has three dozen loud shirts, many of them with the stiff bosom, he always wears a collar that does not match the shirt. He has half a dozen good felt hats, each a different color with a loud band and bright feather, also scores of assorted straw hats. Seven walking canes, one for each day in the week tops off his attire with the exception of a monocle which fits his title. His philosophy of life is in lavishing good-will and happiness to all mankind and he makes such a good job of it that there is truly not a dull moment when he is about.

He always carries a pocket full of cigars and has always got one in his mouth. I offered him a match to light the dang thing, but he told me that he never smokes, he just chews 'em, but he has one cigar that he won't chew, it is one he got at the World's Fair with the President's picture on it. The cigar is 14 inches long.

Lord Salisbury is not only an enthusiastic trooper, known from coast to coast, but he has several vaudeville shows of his own on the road but rarely ever visits them. He takes several short trips to neighboring towns every week, going to shows, carnivals, fairs and renewing acquaintances everywhere and along with all of his personal allurements, he is a magician and is as full of tricks as a monkey with fleas and everybody is mighty glad to see Lord Salisbury and there is no trouble in finding him in a crowd. He has a daughter who is an actress with Warner Bros., in Hollywood, her stage name is "Alice Carlton", another daughter operates a cosmetic business in California.

Lord Salisbury, whose real name is George McPoole, was born here in Salisbury in the year 1875 and has lived here all of his life and is now a retired railroad man, living at the Empire Hotel, a very swanky hostelry, he is an artist par excellence, a sign painter that in these parts cannot be excelled and in that profession he is no piker when it comes to doing jobs, because he won't start a lousy $15.00 or $20.00 job, he has to have real money for his art. The clerk at the Empire Hotel was asked whether or not he thought his Lordship would come out and paint a sign for him some distance out of town, so the clerk told him that if his Lordship was offered good money and that if he were driven to and from the job in a nice flashy limousine, he may be interested. Lord Salisbury has a son, Morris L. McPoole, who graduated from a New York City college and is now a big shot politician in Jersey City.

George Washington Visited Here In 1791

Salisbury was named after a city of the same name in England and many of the old English customs were observed during the early days. At its first establishment the little village of Salisbury was not provided with a charter, or municipal government, not for 12 or 15 years afterwards. But in 1770, an act was passed by the assembly for "Regulating the town of Salisbury". The preamble states that Salisbury is a "healthy, pleasant situation, well watered and convenient for inland trade."

Early history of Rowan County, which then comprised most of western N. C. and part of Tennessee, says in part concerning Salisbury and its municipal laws, that no one would be allowed to let hogs roam in the incorporated limits, a penalty of 20 shillings would be the owner's fine, and that any one would have the right to kill, or otherwise destroy an offending piggy-wiggy, but the cows were a privileged class and might roam at will over streets and commons.

As a precautionary measure against fire, every householder was required to keep a ladder and two leather buckets. Fast riding and fast driving drew a penalty of five shillings for each offence.

On a brass tablet in front of the old courthouse, which is now a municipal building, housing the Chamber of Commerce, the Public Library, the State Headquarters for the American Legion, is written, "In patriotic commemoration of the visit of George Washington, on his tour of the Southern States in 1791. This plaque is marked by the North Carolina daughters of the American Revolution, placed there in the year 1925."

While this does not give very much of a history, or even a story of Salisbury, in a way it will serve to include it in your list of historical places to visit during your vacation. However, it is a very good word picture of picturesque Lord Salisbury, the boy that really puts on the dog in a dog-gone hi-kaflutin' tootin' manner and no dagdum foolin'. If you were to see him comin' you would say: "Holy 'ole sufferin' peel-heeled jumped-up jimminy H. Grammy Crackers, do you see what I see?"

"GOLD RUSHMAISIE"—Friday and Saturday, comedy drama with Ann Sothern in the title role. This time the wise-cracking, soft-hearted showgirl takes a family of migrant crop-pickers under her wing in the desert country and after participating in a gold strike that doesn't pan out, sets them on the road to prosperity. Others in the cast are Lee Bowman, Virginia Weidler, Slim Summerville, Mary Nash, John F. Hamilton, and Irving Bacon.

"SCATTERBRAIN"—Sunday and Monday, comedy in which Judy Canova, Republic's hillbilly songbird makes her hilarious debut. The cast includes Alan Mowbray, Eddie Foy Jr., Joseph Cawthorne, Wallace Ford, Isabel Jewell and Billy Gilbert.

"RHYTHM ON THE RIVER"—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday comedy with music, headed by Bing Crosby and a supporting cast composed of Mary Martin, Basil Rathbone, Oscar Levant, Oscar Shaw, Charles Grapewin, and Lillian Cornell. The story has to do with ghost-writing in the field of music and is on the light humor side.

Figures compiled by the State Highway Department for the registration year ended March 31, 1940 show a total of 1,682,288 motor vehicles registered compared to 1,611,613 in the previous registration year. This is an increase of 70,675 vehicles, or 4.38%. The total net license fees collected amounted to $19,838,178.02, which was an increase of $927,290.94, or 4.90% over the preceding registration year. Of the total fees collected $11,903,148.74, or 60% of the total was retained by the counties, while the State received $7,935,029.28, or 40%. A comparison of motor vehicles registered in 1940 compared to 1930 reveals that in the past 10 years registrations have increased 280,540, or 20%. In the same period, mileage assumed by the Department for construction and maintenance increased from 18,323 miles to 22,644, or a 24% increase, while money available to the Department for construction and maintenance of the State System has increased but 2%. With increased demand for highway improvement being received monthly and a reduction in Federal funds for road building being passed by Congress, it appears that the Department will soon enter a period of reduced activity and curtailed.

IN EVERY TOWN

By Ruth C. Deitz

Bronson's were a lazy lot, house up on the hill made of paint—the shingles gone, the eaves crumbled into dust, the once rich in soil, the neighboring lands; Bronson's knew no toil.

Each year Bronson gave quick birth, the stalwart son, cluttered with a dreamy smile, the younger, proved the same, the lazy, but where they laughed, the silent plan.

Strange doings carried on the crude and battered place, the whistled as they nailed, in feverish pace.

The house took on new life, the alert and proud, the dreamy smile, the husky loud.

This whole lot who dream, the dumber fool, the who had lived on the town, the farming tool.

SILVER SLIPPERS

By Ruth C. Deitz

The girl moaned faintly as the in-lifted her from the stretcher, the high white hospital bed, the clench in her right hand, the pair of silver evening slippers, the head nurse of the Emergency Ward, tried to pull them from the numb fingers.

"Bad case, Harding?" Dr. Summers murmured as he gave the two orders to pull the curtains around the bed, so he could further examination.

Dr. Summers applied the stethoscope. Suddenly the slim body relaxed and the slippers easily into the nurse's hands. At the same time the girl gave way to a piercing scream, then settled into quiet unconsciousness.

Dr. Summers looked at her curiously and remarked in a curt voice, "All right! I'll give Davis orders not to put you out of the ward, as long as you wish to remain. I guess you can take it!"

Dr. Summers had made trips at frequent intervals to look in on the patient, but while her pulse had improved, she was still sleeping. There was nothing to be alarmed at now. At least she would live. But at midnight, he decided he had better look at her again. He was quite surprised to see the girl conscious and in the midst of a quiet conversation with Myra. Her voice came weakly, and Harding was stroking her hand back and forth saying, "Sure dear, you're going to be just fine, and soon you will be able to dance again with the best of them!"

A chance reflection caught something in Harding's lap. It was a pair of silver slippers.

The doctor smiled, and went over to the girl, felt her pulse and said, "You just bet you're going to be all right youngster. You've got to be good though and play lady for quite a spell, and then you'll be able to wear those slippers again, but with restrictions. You've got to dance with me!"

The girl tried to smile, as if she thought dancing with this bespectacled doctor whose tall figure was taking on weight, was rather funny, but tears interrupted the smile, as she reached out her small hand and caught both Harding's and the doctor's to her and whispered, "My friends, both of you, I'll do anything you say—anything, but—"

"Tut-tut, young lady. Don't you worry about anything. You've got to fight and pray and believe and your fight is good as won. Now if you don't mind, can I see your nurse outside for a minute? I have some orders to give her!"

The slippers still in her hand, a rather tired, but more amiable looking Harding faced the kindly features of William Summers, who placed his now tweed-coated arm around her shoulder. "Myra Harding," he said sternly, "I'm giving orders now! That kid's going to recover, thanks to your help. Now you get to bed! Any nurse is all right for her now, and to satisfy you, the boy's parents are moving her to a private room—no expense is to be spared, and all that sort of thing. But will you please tell me one thing, why in the heck must you be forever holding those silver slippers?"

"Well, doctor, the little girl wanted to see them, wanted to know if they had got lost in the accident. It seems as though she had bunkered for a pair all her life. Bought these and an evening gown with the first money she had to spare. She worked as a clerk in the five and ten. Get a date with the boy who took her out and ran into the pole with her. I think these slippers mean more to her than anything else in the world, even the chance of ever walking again; and you see, well—I understand."

By this time Dr. Summers had made Myra Harding sit down in a corner of the corridor. There was not a soul in sight, and the only noise was an indrawn breath from some patient within one of the wards.

He waited a minute and then looked at her squarely, "Myra Harding, it's about time you quit all this foolishness over a kid and paid attention to business. There's one man who will not stand for any more of your ways and that's . . ." He looked at her more severely and could see her old snappy spirit penetrating through her eyes. He laughed and reached over and gathered her in his arms, kissing her long and hard on the well-shaped mouth.

The cloud that had covered the rather hard eyes, melted and Dr. Summers tilted her chin up and feasted deeply on what he saw there. He kissed her again and her lips surrendered to his in warm accord.

skin. He could not believe his eyes, for there on the upper part of her cheeks, he saw what resembled tear-drops. He remarked for the second time within the hour, "Poor kid! May God be good to her!"

It had been five in the morning when they had brought the kid in. The hospital had called him immediately. The operation had been performed at exactly six o'clock, but Dr. Summers decided he would not leave the hospital till noon, outside calls or no outside calls. He was sitting in the Doctor's lounge meditating and smoking his queer, long pipe when he was quite surprised at the precise tap on the door, which only Harding knew how to make, which was followed by her almost noiseless quick tread.

She did not seem like Harding at all! There was something in her manner that was not her professional cool self.

She sat down, then began. "Doctor, is there any hope for that little girl in there?"

Dr. Summers took the pipe out of his mouth and looked at her as if she were some stranger he had never seen before. He could see the quick pounding of her heart beneath her white uniform. Her not too thin nose rose and fell quickly! The question in her eyes, made her almost beautiful, yes almost as lovely as the poor little kid in there!

He looked at the floor, as he said quietly, "Well, Harding, I think she will live all right, but I have my doubts as to whether she will ever walk again. Too bad all around. No parents. Brought up in an orphanage and this her first fling. Just a darn shame, the way hundreds of rich men's sons run around thinking little or nothing of their lives or anyone else's. And all her companion gets out of the deal, is a smashed car, and a broken wrist, and of course a big head, which he had before the accident."

Myra Harding seemed not to hear a word the doctor said, but went on. "There must be some hope, Doctor. There must be! She must walk again! Well, anyway, I'm not going to leave her today. You can tell Davis, that I'm sticking on as the kid's private nurse!"

"But, Harding, you need sleep! It's against orders. You've been up all night and now it's past eleven and you have scarcely budged from that girl! What's come over you anyway? Going soft?"

The nurse looked at him sheepishly and said, "Maybe, Bill Harding, and maybe not! Perhaps I'm just getting old!"

Dr. Summers looked at her curiously and remarked in a curt voice, "All right! I'll give Davis orders not to put you out of the ward, as long as you wish to remain. I guess you can take it!"

All day and going into the night, Harding remained on duty in the emergency ward at the girl's bedside. The other nurses never ventured a word to her. They knew she was law. They could only attend to the three other patients in the room and quietly tip-toe by the screened bed, where Harding kept vigil. Once Miss Feldman saw Harding catching 40 winks but her hand was placed firmly on the girl's wrist.

Dr. Summers had made trips at frequent intervals to look in on the patient, but while her pulse had improved, she was still sleeping. There was nothing to be alarmed at now. At least she would live. But at midnight, he decided he had better look at her again. He was quite surprised to see the girl conscious and in the midst of a quiet conversation with Myra. ended their operations from the start. Management problems have been difficult to solve but apparently the Lohmanns have found most of the answers. The main spark plug in their continued, persistent, and growing interest has been Henry's son, Carl, then only ten years old. Through all these years Carl has read, studied, talked, and dreamed Guernseys with unbounded enthusiasm. A full purchased from the Tom Cooper farm in one of the early Oklahoma State Sales has left them several milky and creditably typed daughters. A son of Royalist's Heritage of Roughwood 73133 A. R. out of L. E. Vaughan's great cow, Josephine of Cove Hollow 90728 has left them an excellent lot of daughters with especially good udders. This is also true of a son of this bull out of one of their own cows. They now have in service two bulls purchased from Roughwood Farm in Massachusetts. Both are out of Roughwood Trixy 267791 who has produced 683.4 pounds fat in class EE. These two sires with a son of Langwater Blanche Flower 392898, who has a record of 609.6 pounds of fat in class F, from Meadow Lodge Farm in Oklahoma and another home bred son of the Cooper bull are the backbone of their present breeding program. Seven more purebred females were purchased at the Southeast Kansas Sale in the fall of 1935 and about the same number from Dr. E. R. Allen in Oklahoma City. The more than 80 cows now in the milking herd are averaging close to three gallons of milk a day and a demonstration that the job of building a creditable as well as a commercial sound breeding herd of Guernseys can be accomplished in Southeast Texas.

There's a trick in controlling weeds in pastures by mowing. The trick, according to R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, is to mow the weeds when they reach their maximum growth at about the time flowers form. Mowing earlier than that does not weaken the weeds to any great extent, and later mowing allows seeds to ripen. If the mowing happens to fall in a dry period of the year, so much the better. Mowing of pastures to control weeds and to keep grasses in a growing, vegetative state is proving the easiest and most profitable form of pasture improvement. Reports from county agricultural agents in East Texas, the Gulf Coast, and the central part of the state indicate that regular mowing often doubles the carrying capacity of pastures. Results from tests at the Angleton sub-station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station were even more profitable.

WENDELL WILLKIE PRACTICAL FARMER

Republican Nominee for President Raises Hogs and Feeder Steers in Indiana.

By WHEELER McILLEN
Editor-in-Chief, Farm Journal and Farmer's Wife

During the past two months, national interest has focused on five farms lying in a three-mile semi-circle just south of Rushville, Indiana, typical of thousands of cornbelt farms. Living on and working them are five shrewd Indiana farmers, German and Scotch-Irish extraction. They were purchased, individually, by Wendell Willkie, but only after careful inspection by Mr. Willkie and analysis of the soils by agricultural scientists. The farms were purchased by Mr. Willkie with his savings long before he had any notion of entering national politics. They are operated on a self-maintenance pattern with hogs and feeder steers as the principal sources of revenue. Mr. Willkie and the five tenant-managers share profits on a 50-50 basis. Each farm has made a profit since Mr. Willkie took it over.

The names of the tenants who share partnership with Mr. Willkie are Joseph Kramer, Jesse Fell, Louis Berkemeier, Charles Brown and Harold Moore. All of the farms are signed up with AAA. Miss Mary Sleeth, of Rushville, an old friend of Mrs. Willkie, acts as a sort of local overseer for the farms. She also looks after one of her own.

No Show Places Here

None of the farms is a show place or "fancy" in any respect. Soon after purchasing each place, Mr. Willkie directed that the houses be put in good repair and well painted. Kitchens were modernized and electricity brought in from the local REA lines. The barns and other business buildings were put in order. Each farm has its own vegetable garden, chicken yard and fruit orchard.

Typical of the Willkie system of farming is the Louis Berkemeier place, 398 acres of woodlot and pasture running along Mud Creek, and purchased by the candidate in 1934. This summer it grew 10 acres of barley, 85 acres of corn and 80 acres of wheat to support its 80 Herefords and 200 hogs.

Farmers' Welfare First

The Kramer place, a mile and a half up the road from the Berkemeier's, has a flock of 50 sheep. They are not only a source of cash income. They free Joe Kramer from the task of keeping fence lines cleaned, and furnish Christine Kramer with a source of material for the blankets and carpets she has woven during the past three years.

Wendell Willkie's idea seems to be that the farmer who makes the best living as well as the surest profit is the farmer with a low overhead. By this, he does not believe that wages should be peeled to 1890 levels nor that farmers should starve their families and themselves in order to build up a bank account. To the contrary, he insists that the operator's own bodily welfare come before other considerations. The trim homes, vegetable gardens, fruit trees and chicken yards on each Willkie farm are proof to that end.

He does vigorously oppose the farm practice of selling on a wholesale market and buying extensively on a retail market, especially when it comes to the matter of materials that can be grown at home. That belief shakes down to the rule that lies behind the success of the five farms:—a balanced ratio of livestock and home-grown feed.

The whole plan for operation of the farms seems to be characteristic of their owner. Generous consideration for the fact that his associates in their management are entitled to live well was one of his first thoughts. He laid down the basic principles of operation—selecting those that successful farmers had found to be profitable—and then trusted the men he had selected to carry the program out day by day.

Encourages 4-H Clubs

Not the least of Mr. Willkie's interests as he goes around the farms on his frequent visits are the children of his farm partners. He encourages them to have animals of their own and is a hearty supporter of 4-H club activities.

"Faith in farm land as a sound business investment," according to Miss Sleeth, is apparently the real reason Wendell Willkie invested his savings in Indiana farms; that, and a desire to keep his roots in the soil. Mr. Willkie also wanted his son, Philip, a Princeton student, to have the experience of actual farm work.

"Mr. Willkie," explains Louis Berkemeier, "says we can have just as many steers and hogs as we please so long as we grow enough stuff right here on the place to feed them the year 'round. He says that's the way to make money in farming. . . . grow as much stuff as the land will stand without running away and then sell what you can't use yourself. Well, sir, you know that was right down our road. That's the way I was brought up and it's never been known to fail as long as a man takes proper care of his land. That's why we've made a profit out here for the last six years."

ZERR-TURNER

The marriage of Miss Lorine Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wil Turner, to Lester Maurice Zerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zerr, took place Tuesday morning, September 24, 1940, at eight o'clock in Holy Cross Church. Reverend Eugene Zuber officiated and read the Nuptial Mass. The main altar was decorated with white asters and ferns and baskets of cockscomb were placed in the sanctuary. The choir sang the Mass in honor of Saint Anthony.

The bride entered with her brother, Clarence Turner, while the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was played on the pipe organ. She wore an attractive two-piece wool suit of river blue with full length coat. Her hat was an off-the-face model of black felt, and her shoes, bag and gloves were black suede. She wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Miss Corine Zerr, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a street length frock of sea green crepe with black from the first whistle to the last one. The passing attack of Horace Geiger, the terrific tackling of R. Q. Stinson, and the hard running of Captain Arthur Weiblen showed salient bits of spirit that simply was unbeatable in the Comet lineup. Weiblen made the first 6 points on a line buck in which he plunged over with a couple of Camp Wooders on his back most of the way.

Camp Wood, failing to make one first down, came back, intercepted a Comet pass intended for Norbert Ahr, and ran the ball back 50 yards for their only 6 points. In the third quarter on a long delayed pass of some 25 yards, Horace Geiger whipped Norbert Ahr a beautiful pass which Norbert caught across the goal with Camp Wooders all about. The surprise run in the last minute of the game came when Kenneth Hans at quarterback took Leon Suehs' place at center and Leon took the ball on a left end run. Leon ran the ball 12 yards around their end and left some 3 Camp Wood tackler lying in his path.

Castroville's schedule for the season is as follows:

Sept. 13, Hallettsville (there)
Sept. 20, Camp Wood (here)
Sept. 27, Yancey (here)
Oct. 11, Poth (here)
Oct. 18, LaCoste (there)
Oct. 25, Weimar (there)
Nov. 1, D'Hanis (there)
Nov. 7, Nordheim (there)
Nov. 15, Open
Nov. 22, open

Hilmar J. Koch, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen, and Herman Fohn was best man for his brother. They wore dark suits and their boutonnieres were white carnations.

The mixed choir, of which the bride was a member, sang the Mass in Honor of St. David by Rees, and at the offertory they rendered Wiegand's "Ave Maria". Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents for members of the bridal party, the immediate families, the pastor, the choir, and several other friends numbering about fifty. At noon a wedding dinner was served in the dining room, where the long table was laid with white damask linen. FOHN-ROTHER NUPTIALS

Miss Sara Rothe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Rothe of D'Hanis, became the bride of Mr. Wilfred Joseph Fohn of Uvalde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Fohn of D'Hanis, at 8:30 A. M. on Thursday, September 19, 1940, in Holy Cross Catholic Church. Reverend Eugene Zuber, pastor, officiated at the ceremony and read the Nuptial Mass.

White chrysanthemums and ferns were used to decorate the altar and sanctuary, while similar ferns bordered the main aisle of the church. Soft pre-nuptial music played on the pipe organ swelled into the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" as the wedding party entered.

The bridesmaid was Miss Lillian Fohn, sister of the bridegroom; she wore a street dress of rum brown crepe, its bodice shirred to the neckline, where it was held by two gold clips. Her shoulder corsage was of bronze chrysanthemums, and her accessories were black.

Miss Ethel Rothe was her sister's maid of honor. Her frock of bronze crepe had gold and coral ornaments at the throat and on the belt. She wore black accessories and a shoulder corsage of dark bronze chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a street-length dress of dark brown alpaca crepe with matching accessories. The bodice of all-over tucking had a close-fitting neck and elbow length sleeves. Her bag, gloves, and shoes were of suede, and her felt hat had a dainty lace veil. She wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Hilmar J. Koch, cousin of the bride, was groomsmen, and Herman Fohn was best man for his brother. They wore dark suits and their boutonnieres were white carnations. The mixed choir, of which the bride was a member, sang the Mass in Honor of St. David by Rees, and at the offertory they rendered Wiegand's "Ave Maria". Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents for members of the bridal party, the immediate families, the pastor, the choir, and several other friends numbering about fifty. At noon a wedding dinner was served in the dining room, where the long table was laid with white damask linen. D'HANIS HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Cowboys Win First Conference Game

The D'Hanis Cowboys started off their 1940 football season with a 38-6 victory over the LaCoste High School Eagles last Friday at LaCoste. The Cowboys proved their ability to execute both end sweeps and line plays. The boys proved to their supporters that they block and tackle. The open field running of Jimmie Zinsmeyer, the hard driving of Buddy Biry and the fine blocking of James Wolff were the highlights of the Cowboys' offense. Lawrence Huser at left end and Capt. Robert Love at right end were the standouts on the defense. The Cowboys chalked up eight first downs to one for the Eagles. The touchdowns were made both through the air and on the ground. Buddy Biry scored three touchdowns and kicked one extra point. James Wolff scored one touchdown, Robert Love one, and Elmer Keller one. One weakness which will have to be improved upon was the Cowboys' pass offense. Every man in uniform who was eligible played some in the game.
